A natural approach to luxury skincare

More

Ideal for dry and sensitive skin types, the non-foaming, non-drying action of this creamy emulsion melts away surface debris and make-up leaving the skin balanced and extremely comfortable. Hydrating plant extracts moisturise the skin and help protect against free radicals and ozone damage. A calming complex helps prevent irritation and soothes even the most sensitive skin.

- Removes non-waterproof make-up and eye make-up
- pH balanced leaving no irritating residue on the skin
- Against animal testing
- For all skin types
- Hydration with 100% pure spring water sourced from an artesian spring in New Zealand

Natural Luxury Skincare - Produced in New Zealand containing Pure Manuka Honey

Usage

Apply over face and neck, morning and night, pressing lightly with fingers and palms. Do not rub as this can stress the skin. Gently remove with tissue, make-up square or rinse off with warm water.

We recommend patch testing before first use. In the unlikely event of a negative reaction, discontinue use.

FAQs

What Skin Toner do you recommend?

We recommend complimenting this purifying cleanser with Royal Jelly Skin Toner with Manuka Honey. This delicate, alcohol-free toner is designed to complete the cleansing as the final refreshing process for the skin. It is formulated with pure Manuka Honey that provides preliminary hydration and calms irritation. It soothes and softens the skin and is formulated to gently balance the skin back to its natural pH level.

Are Madeleine Ritchie products suitable for sensitive skin?

Our whole range of Madeleine Ritchie skin crème is suitable for all skin types but it is especially effective for skin that is sensitive. The natural extracts used in Madeleine Ritchie skincare being concentrated and totally free of chemical additives, are very appropriate for sensitive skins. Many of our customers have found they are the only products that suit their sensitive skin.

What is the history of the Madeleine Ritchie range you sell?

Founded in 1963, Madeleine Ritchie skincare has become one of the world's leading natural skincare brands. The company traces its proud heritage to the European Spa town of Royal Tunbridge Wells in Kent, England. Madeleine continued the development of the products in Auckland, New Zealand in 1982 sourcing all local ingredients.

Madeleine Ritchie skincare is an innovative company having created the world's first honey skincare products and pioneered the development of the world's first active Manuka Honey skincare.
